FALL SEMESTER 2024

BI 170—OLD TESTAMENT SURVEY

Old Testament Survey is a wonderful opportunity for students to discover and apply practical spiritual principles to the Christian Life that unfold from our Old Testament. Students will learn a foundational understanding of the content of the 39 books of the Old Testament, along with a working knowledge of the authors, geography, timeline, and major historical events recorded within. Special emphasis will be given to understanding the Old Testament as it relates to the New Testament. The purpose and message of the four major sections of the Old Testament will be examined as well.

Location: Fellowship Bible Church
When: Thursdays @ 7 p.m.
Starting September 5, 2024
Instructor: Dr. Jim Schuppe

BI 278—DANIEL: THE KEY TO BIBLE PROPHECY

Daniel is an important historical and prophetic book among the Major Prophets. This course will explain the Book's exilic setting in comparison with OT history and Ancient Near Eastern history. Daniel was a man who stood true to God amidst a hostile culture, providing many practical lessons. Emphasis will be placed on the prophetic visions of Daniel and their outline of world history and of the future. The course will demonstrate how Daniel provided a foundation for later Biblical prophecy, especially Revelation, and how a literal, dispensational approach to interpretation provides the proper understanding of Bible prophecy.

Location: Fellowship Bible Church
When: Tuesdays @ 6:45 p.m.
Starting August 27, 2024
Instructor: Dr. Mark Johnson
